Lindsey Connell has had many years' experience treating both musculo-skeletal and neuromuscular conditions in people and commenced treating animals in 1999. She completed her post graduate Masters in Animal Studies (Animal Physiotherapy) at the University of Queensland in 2004.

Since the completion of her Masters, she has been involved in teaching the animal physiotherapy component of the Masters in Animal Studies (Animal Physiotherapy) Course and has also presented at several Veterinary, Veterinary Nurse and Physiotherapy conferences.

Lindsey runs an established small animal practice both in Brisbane and on the Gold Coast, consulting from Veterinary Specialist Services Clinics in Underwood and Carrara.

This is a "must attend" for all those people who have started their dogs lure coursing in the last few years, and/or whose dogs do agility and other dog sports, as well as show people wanting their dogs to achieve the best possible performance in the ring.
